

CANCER OF ANY KIND – ITS CAUSE AND ITS CURE

(Colon, brain, lung, uterus, ovaries, breast, prostate, blood, eye, mouth, glandular and many others type of cancer)

At the time of writing, the occurrence of cancer and associated mortality levels has turned out to be almost a worldwide pandemic, with economically developed countries most affected.

This is due to the fact that developed countries are consuming an enormously high level of sugar and sugary foods with lactose and glucose, overfeeding the fungus Candida albicans that naturally lives inside our body.

For all readers who would like to cure or prevent the disease of cancer, and for the education of all medical doctors and scientists who target in vain only the consequences of diseases without knowing their cause, I am divulging this precious information: No disease can be completely cured without knowing its cause, and the cause of any kind of cancer is the fungus Candida albicans (see the title: “Candida Albicans, Death Itself”).

We have all heard that cancer begins when our cells start to mutate.

That is everything modern medical doctors currently know about cancer. Therefore, their only treatment is to kill the mutated cells, often killing the healthy cells as well if chemotherapy is applied. By not having any idea what the main cause of cancer is, modern medical doctors are jeopardizing patients’ lives by acidifying their blood with the chemicals’ drugs, making Candida albicans (again, the cause of cancer) even more aggressive.

In an acidic environment, Candida albicans begins to aggressively eat the tissue in which it had previously established its own, microscopic nest. Aggressively “eating” any of our tissue means consuming it quickly and extensively, thus leading to the excretion (or “pooping”) of abundant amounts of gas.

Earlier, in the discussion of Candida albicans, we saw that consumption of cell matter by Candida is not itself the problem, because our bodies are producing new cells at the same time. The main problem is Candida’s abundant poop—a gas that automatically eliminates oxygen from our cells.

Our cells need oxygen in order to live. If a cell is suffocated with Candida's gases for a prolonged time, a panic reaction to that suffocation and lack of oxygen is that it starts to mutate!

The cure of cancer consists of killing Candida albicans inside and around the mutated cells, while at the same time, showering with oxygen all other suffocated cells (that are about to mutate) by ingesting alkaline water and food.

Both of these curing procedures we can perform simultaneously using Godsent medicinal waters and foods (see the sections: "Medicinal Food Recipes" and "Medicinal Waters"). No synthetic, man-made artificial pills or injections of any kind should be used. Any kind of pharmaceutical product will produce acidity in our blood, drastically reducing oxygen levels, in this way causing Candida to rush toward the acidic areas of our body.

Still, we can use a surgeon's precise hand, as well as their experience, to remove cancer whenever it can be accessed without damaging the nearest areas.

Certainly, the wisest and fastest way to permanently cure any kind of cancer is to exclusively eat and drink the medicinal waters and medicinal foods described in this book, while also undergoing surgical procedures to remove the cancer when it is accessible—without the use of any kind of man-made chemical drugs after surgery.

A mutated cancer cell is nothing else but a cell that is able to live with the minimum amount of oxygen possible. That is why the cell had to mutate—to adapt itself to a minimum level of oxygen. It is not easy to access Candida albicans inside already mutated cells in order to kill this fungus, because the cells have now developed a very hard membrane.

Candida albicans starts liking these new kinds of mutated cells with very low oxygen, because Candida is comfortable in such an environment. It then changes the direction of its consumption (destruction), so that instead of just devouring every cell as before, Candida now permits those mutated cells to live longer while it proceeds to eat and poop inside healthy cells. A healthy cell that has just been invaded by Candida has only two options—to mutate and live a bit longer, or not to mutate and die after suffocation by Candida's gas.

Fortunately, we have food that is able to penetrate through the mutated cells' hard membranes, where Candida has encapsulated itself, in this way killing Candida albicans—the main reason why our cells were forced to mutate.

SIMPLE STEPS TO CURE ANY KIND OF CANCER

To cure any kind of cancer, at any stage, the following must be ingested daily or administered as an enema, for three consecutive months or until healing is complete:

1. One litre of ginger water (for its preparation, see the title: “Ginger root, Divinity’s Gift to Humankind”).
2. One litre of fresh green hot chili (jalapeño) pepper water (for its preparation, see the title: “Green Hot Chili (Jalapeño) Pepper Water”).
